Apprentissage Illimité Inc.

Apprentissage Illimité is a publishing house established in Manitoba in 1995 with the aim to offer dynamic and practical tools that respond to the growing need for francization expressed by preschool groups, parents associations, and French language schools in Canada. In all of its publications, particular attention is paid to the need to promote interaction between students, parents, and educators. Created to respond to the specific needs of early childhood, Apprentissage Illimité has evolved over the years to serve a broader base of clients learning French, both as mother tongue and as a second language. In addition to the Canadian market, Apprentissage Illimité's books are used in the United States, France, China, Morocco, and Russia.

Ontario

David Les Éditions David is a literary publishing house that was founded in Ottawa in 1993 and publishes creative writing (novels, short stories, and poetry) as well as studies and essays about Franco-phone literature. The publisher gives priority to Ontario authors, but also welcomes authors from other regions of Canada. Through this mandate, the publisher aims to contribute to an original literature that reflects the various realities of the Canadian francophonie. It also wants to develop a readership that can appreciate this literature. The publishing house organizes its publications around six main collections: three prose collections, two poetry collections, and a collection of essays. Les Éditions David has a catalogue that comprises some 350 titles.

Publications:

- Novels
- Poetry
- Scholarly Works
- Literature for teens and young adults
- Short Stories
- Haikus
- Coffee Table Books

Founded in 1981, Les Éditions L'Interligne has to date published close to 200 titles, which are available in different formats, and over 170 issues of the arts magazine Liaison.

Les Éditions L'Interligne pursues the double goal of promoting the emergence of an original discourse in the French language and encouraging an in-depth exploration of a literature from which emerges the individual imagination in the process of being created. The publishing house wants to celebrate the essence and abundance of Franco-Ontarian literature and the literature of Quebec's Outaouais region, with its wealth of distinctive features, its variety and its multi-generational and multicultural voices. Les Éditions L'Interligne wants to contribute to the recognition of the Franco-Ontarian cultural identity and foster a sense of unity among the writers and their readership. All these motivations guide the publishing house's editorial policies.

Prise de parole

Rooted in Sudbury, in the heart of Ontario, Les Éditions Prise de parole supports authors and creators of French language and culture in Canada, with emphasis on modern works. This mandate reflects the publishing house's desire to support, from its location in Sudbury, both the work of creative writing in a minority community and reflection about this same community in the humanities and social sciences, and to do so on a national scale. Prise de parole publishes between 16 and 18 books per year, in all literary genres, as well as studies and essays about the Canadian francophonie in the humanities and social sciences. Since it was founded in 1973, Les Éditions Prise de parole has published more than 350 titles and some 150 authors.

BOUTON D'OR ACADIE

Founded in 1996 and
based in Moncton,
Bouton d'or Acadie

established an editorial policy based on respect for young readers and on the literary value of the proposed projects. It is increasingly publishing illustrated books and novels with contemporary themes. In addition to emphasizing Acadian authors and illustrators, the publishing house welcomes creators from around the world. It was also the first to publish a series of First Nations stories from Eastern Canada, with texts in the original language (Mi'kmaq or Passamaquoddy) in addition to French and English. The 10 to 15 titles published annually are divided into 5 collections: "Poussette" [Stroller] (ages 0 to 4), "Trottinette" [Scooter] (ages 4 to 8), "Planche à roulettes" [Skateboard] (ages 8 to 11), "Vélo de course" [Racing Bike] (ages 11 and up) and "Tout-terrain" [All-Terrain] (for everyone).
